REFUSE TO BRING BOOKS FOR OPEN INSPECTION.

Lawyer Declares Business Interests Must Re Protected-Inquisitor Hughes Outlines the Scope and Purposes of the Investigation, Citing Charters and Laws.

The Gas Trust owns and controls not only all the gas companies of Manhattan and the Bronx, with one or two petty exceptions, but it owns every share of stock of the New York Edison Company, and through this controls the electric lighting of the city.

This information was wrung from officials of the Trust by the Legislative Investigating Committee this afternoon. Before this they had protested and refused to produce their books for public inspection, though willing "to tell of holdings in executive session."

Treasurer Bennett was ordered to bring the stock ledger at the afternoon session. He kept the committee waiting for an hour, then took the stand and answered questions relating to stock from a memorandum Q. How much preferred stock of the
